DETAILED ACTION

RESPONSE TO AMENDMENT

1. Claims 1-11 remain for further examination. Applicants' arguments with respect to claims 1-11 filed on January 12, 2005 have been fully considered.

The old rejection maintained

2. The rejection is respectfully maintained as set forth in the last Office Action mailed on October 13, 2004. Applicants' arguments with respect to claims 1-11 have been fully considered but they are deemed to be moot and old rejection maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103(a)

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

4. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morwood (U.S. Patent No. 6,470,346) in view of Ferguson (U.S. Patent No. 6,769,019).

5. As to claim 1, Morwood disclose a system for managing a plurality of client processes (see abstract; figures 1-2; and column 2 lines 33-67), comprising: a client task within which the client processes will be executed (column 1 lines 50-63; column 2 lines 33-67; and column 14 line 64 to column 15 line 52); and a manager task running at a higher priority than the client task, the manager task queuing the client processes into the client task in priority order (figures 2-3; column 4 lines 15-22; and column 8 line 16 to column 9 line 28).

However, Morwood does not explicitly disclose that the manager task kills the client task when a current one of the client processes is not completed within a predetermined time period.

Ferguson explicitly discloses that the manager task kills the client task when a current one of the client processes is not completed within a predetermined time period (figures 10-11 and 15; column 11 line 63 to column 12 line 7; column 13 lines 17-38; column 14 lines 11-42; and column 18 lines 1-50).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teaching of Ferguson as stated above with the system of Morwood for managing a plurality of client processes because it would have enabled a client process to control network communication traffic, maximized network bandwidth, and reduces or eliminated time delay.

6. As to claims 2-3, Morwood disclose that the manager task restarts the client task and queues a next one of the client processes into the client task or requeues the current client process into the client task (figures 3, 11, and 14; column 9 lines 9-21; column 12 lines 16-37; and column 13 lines 24-47).

7. As to claims 4-5, Morwood disclose that the client task sends a response to the manager task indicating the execution of the current client process is complete; and the manager task, when receiving the response from the client task, queues a next one of the client processes into the client task (column 9 lines 4-21; column 10 lines 51-64; and column 12 lines 6-37).

8. As to claims 6-10, they are also rejected for the same reasons set forth to rejecting claims 1-5 above, since claims 6-10 are merely a method of operation for the apparatus defined in the claims 1-5.

9. As to claim 11, they are also rejected for the same reasons set forth to rejecting claim 1 above, since claim 11 is merely a computer-readable storage medium storing a set of instructions to manage the apparatus defined in the claim 1.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-11 filed on January 12, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive for the claims 1-11.

11. In the remarks, the applicant argues that:

Argument: There is no teaching or suggestion in the Ferguson reference that the task is killed if it is not executed within a predetermined time period.

Response: The argument toward rejection is not persuasive and rejection stands.

Ferguson explicitly discloses that the manager task issues a network activity (checks in the loop for higher priority requests) if the interval exceeds the threshold (predetermined time interval); and if it detects any higher priority request, the ongoing network activity is suspended and the higher priority request is served (figures 6-7; and column 13 lines 17-38), which implies that the manager task kills the client task when a current one of the client processes is not completed within a predetermined time period, rendering the rejection proper, and rejection stands.

Argument: Morwood and Ferguson, either alone or in combination, do not teach or suggest the claimed limitations of the claim 1.

Response: The argument toward rejection is not persuasive and rejection stands.

Morwood explicitly discloses that the client process depend on the manager process and the manager process working independently and controlling the client process, which implies that the manager task running at a higher priority than the client task (figure 2; and column 8 line 16 to column 9 line 8), the manager task queuing the client processes into the client task in priority order (figure 3; and column 9 lines 9-28) and Ferguson explicitly discloses that the manager task issues a network activity (checks in the loop for higher priority requests) if the interval exceeds the threshold (predetermined time interval); and if it detects any higher priority request, the ongoing network activity is suspended and the higher priority request is served (figures 6-7; and column 13 lines 17-38), which implies that the manager task kills the client task when a current one of the client processes is not completed within a predetermined time period; therefore, the combination of Morwood and Ferguson explicitly teaches or suggests the claimed limitations of the claim 1.

12. This action is made final. See M.P.E.P. § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a).

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR RESPONSE TO THIS FINAL ACTION IS SET TO EXPIRE THREE MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THIS ACTION. IN THE EVENT A FIRST RESPONSE IS FILED WITHIN TWO MONTHS OF THE MAILING DATE OF THIS FINAL ACTION AND THE ADVISORY ACTION IS NOT MAILED UNTIL AFTER THE END OF THE THREE MONTH SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD, THEN THE SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD WILL EXPIRE ON THE DATE THE ADVISORY ACTION IS MAILED, AND ANY EXTENSION FEE PURSUANT TO 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a) WILL BE CALCULATED FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THE ADVISORY ACTION. IN NO EVENT WILL THE STATUTORY PERIOD FOR RESPONSE EXPIRE LATER THAN SIX MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THIS FINAL ACTION.
